READ TO SUCCEED²

A Literacy Contest with Achieve3000®

Dear Parent/Guardian,

We're announcing an exciting contest—READ TO SUCCEED 2—to encourage students to complete even more lessons on Achieve3000®, the proven-effective literacy platform your child is using at school. Just like the first Read to Succeed contest, your at-home involvement will make all the difference!

Students will earn points for every lesson they complete, as well as extra points for high scores. The class with the most points at the end of the contest period wins a class party!

Your child can earn more points—and build critical reading skills—by logging in after school to complete additional lessons. Achieve3000 can be used anywhere, at any time, with or without an internet connection, making it easy for parents to cheer students on as they continue to work toward the contest goals at home.

The value of your participation in your child's education cannot be underestimated, and this is a great opportunity to extend learning beyond the school day.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Anderssen
